The California Department of Water Resources – State Water Project (CDWR-SWP) appreciates the CAISO's support in collaborating on the development of the draft problem statement on real-time load bidding. CDWR-SWP also values the CAISO's engagement with stakeholders and its recognition of the need to enhance real-time market participation for demand-side resources, along with the potential market efficiencies this effort could yield.

CDWR-SWP believes the draft problem statement accurately reflects the challenges and opportunities identified and captures the foundational elements necessary to advance real-time load bidding. CDWR-SWP strongly supports the direction outlined in the problem statement and is encouraged by the CAISO's commitment to addressing this important issue. We look forward to continued collaboration as this initiative progresses into policy development.
